Binding Testing

The new Speedtronic Pro is the fastest binding tester on the market.

At well under 2 minutes per pair using ticket entry for the data, and with automatic boot entry this machine is simplicity itself to use.

The machine tests all ISO 11088 bindings and prints results with either the integrated printer or an external printer if configured to.

This machine will interface directly with EasyRent to generate, test and store data relating to the rental binding testing standard.

The new Drivetronic is a budget priced machine that does not use ticket entry for the data, all data is entered via the Wi-Drive wheel.

The machine will perform all ISO 11088 tests and ensure that the binding is set correctly and performs to a safe standard

There are 3 printing options available, small roll printer built into the machine, external thermal till printer and external ticket printer.
